A Father's Love

This story gives the child a vivid picture of the nature of a father's love for his child. The child, as well as the parent is reminded of the unique quality of family relationships, the foundation of the moral stability of the child as he grows up and the foundation of his integrity as an adult.

Reading the story can help develop a special closeness between parents and children.

This is a book that a child will treasure as it brings back memories of intimate moments with the people he loves.

Dear children,
I know that the pictures in this colouring book will give you hours of pleasure as you add colour to make the pictures your own. Let the pictures inspire you to be creative. You may add your own details before you colour. You can draw more doors, curtains for the doors, roads in the city, people on the streets, stars in the sky and your own patterns for the clothes the people wear.
